

God Created the Other Animals on the Earth

God also created the other animals on the sixth day. These are things like lions, leopards, tigers and other wild animals. Even though we think of these animals as ferocious, they were actually tame and kind before the fall of man. Many of these animals lived in the forested parts of the earth. Even today, deep in the forests many of these animals still dwell. The tall giraffes reach way up high to eat leaves from the trees. Huge hippos wade in rivers to keep cool. God also created many of the animals that we enjoy today as pets. There were all different kinds of dogs and cats. There were rabbits and squirrels, raccoons and badgers.

God created all these animals for man to enjoy. At last the earth was finally ready for God to create man. In next weeks lesson we will begin to talk about God's creation of man!

God's Creation

The Sixth Day of Creation

Preschool Kindergarten
1st Grade

When we come to the sixth day of creation, we are really getting to some wonderful things. Up to this point, God has called light into being on the first day, He has created the atmosphere, the sky, on the second day, on the third day He brought up the dry land out of the waters and created the grasses and plants as the first kind of life. Then on the fourth day, He placed the sun and the moon and the stars in the heavens for light during the day and during the night.

Then on the fifth day, God created fish in the sea and birds in the air.

Still God was not finished with His creation. So He continued by creating more wonderful things on the sixth day.

Genesis 1:24 says:

“And God said Let the land produce living creatures according to their kinds: livestock, creatures that move along the ground, and wild animals each according to their kind...”

Memory Verse

“God made the wild animals according to their kind... and God saw that it was good.”

(Gen 1:25)

God Creates the Cattle

On the sixth day, God began by creating all kinds of cattle. These are what is referred to as “livestock” in the verse on the front page. In the picture below are a kind of large cattle. These big creatures eat the grass of the field. Even though man did not eat meat in the beginning, God knew that man would eventually need the cattle for an important source of food. Man would eventually keep large herds of cattle. Sheep, goats, cows and horses are actually all various types of cattle.

Use your colored pencils to make these tigers very colorful.
